

LEGISLATIVE COMPLIANCE FOR OFFICERS (LCO) SHORT COURSE

Summary (Course Outline):

- What 'reasonably practicable' means and why it is so important
- Duties of the PCBU, Officers and Workers
- Offences and penalties associated with the legislation
- Knowledge of enforceable undertakings and rights of entry
- Relevant codes of practice

Course Description:

This course is held over half a day and covers the legislative changes introduced by the Work Health Safety Act 2012. Designed to make workplace health and safety laws easy to understand, this session raises awareness and increases knowledge of the rights and obligations of managers and employers. Under the new legislation these Work Health Safety responsibilities have been extended to all senior managers, business owners and operators. This training highlights your obligations and what you need to do to stay on the right side of the law!

This course is ideal for all senior managers who wish to gain a greater understanding of their responsibilities as Officers under the WHS Act 2012. All participants completing the session will receive a Certificate of Attendance.

Participants who complete the course will be provided with a Statement of Attendance certificate
